Hailemichael Molla

Hello! My name is Hailemichael Molla, and I was born on February 15, 2004, in the vibrant city of Bahirdar, Ethiopia. Located on the shores of Lake Tana, the largest lake in Ethiopia, Bahirdar is known for its stunning natural beauty, including the iconic Blue Nile Falls. Growing up in this serene environment greatly influenced my curiosity, creativity, and appreciation for innovation. I am the second child in my family and have the privilege of growing up with two amazing brothers. From an early age, I was a dedicated student with a strong passion for technology. My family has always been my greatest source of inspiration, providing unwavering support and encouragement that have shaped who I am today.

Education

My educational journey began at SOS Hermann Gmeiner School in Bahirdar, where I studied from KG1 through Grade 12. This school not only provided me with a strong academic foundation but also fostered my curiosity and problem-solving skills. While at SOS HGS, I was actively involved in various clubs and extracurricular activities, which helped me explore my passion for technology and leadership. I credit much of my early growth to the supportive environment and inspiring mentors I had during this time. After graduating high school, I pursued higher education at Addis Ababa University, one of the top universities in Ethiopia. I am now a third-year software engineering student, focusing on acquiring the skills and knowledge needed to address real-world challenges through technology.

Interests

In my free time, I enjoy staying active by playing football and spending quality time with my friends and family. I find joy in participating in voluntary activities, as giving back to my community is something I deeply value. Relaxing with a good movie or watching football matches is another way I unwind. I also love playing video games and exploring new ideas and perspectives through reading books, which helps me grow both personally and intellectually.

Soft Skills

Below is a list of some key soft skills I possess, reflecting my interpersonal strengths and abilities

- Adaptability – Quick to adjust to changing environments and requirements.
- Communication – Moderate written and verbal communication abilities.
- Problem-Solving – Effective in analyzing and resolving challenges
- Teamwork – Collaborative and adaptable when working with others.
- Leadership – Experience guiding and motivating teams.

Achievements

Over the years, I have had the opportunity to participate in various activities that have contributed to my growth both personally and professionally. I completed my education from KG1 to Grade 12 at SOS Hermann Gmeiner School in Bahirdar, where I developed a strong foundation for my academic journey. Currently, I am pursuing a degree in Software Engineering at Addis Ababa University, where I am honing my skills to contribute to the tech community. During my school years, I actively participated in extracurricular activities and received certificates for being involved in the ICT Club, Scout Club, and Charity Club, where I was able to develop leadership, collaboration, and community-oriented skills. I also demonstrated my passion for technology early on by attempting to build a school management system for my school, which showcased my interest in using technology to streamline processes and solve problems. In addition to my academic and technological pursuits, I have always been passionate about sports. I was part of the Pre-Engineering football team at Addis Ababa Institute of Technology (AAiT), where we won the football competition and I received a medal for our victory, reflecting teamwork, dedication, and sportsmanship. I am also deeply committed to giving back to the community. In 2024, I had the privilege of volunteering at the Ethiopian Great Run, which was a fulfilling experience that allowed me to contribute to a national event and support the growth of such initiatives in my country.
